THE GOD WHO IS SUFFICIENT

March 28, 2021

During the night Jacob got up and took his two wives, his two slave women, and his eleven sons, and crossed the ford of Jabbok. He took them and sent them across the stream, along with all his possessions. Jacob was left alone, and a man wrestled with him until daybreak. When the man saw that he could not defeat him, he struck Jacob's hip socket as they wrestled and dislocated his hip. Then he said to Jacob, "Let me go, for it is daybreak." But Jacob said, "I will not let you go unless you bless me." "What is your name?" the man asked. "Jacob," he replied. "Your name will no longer be Jacob," he said. "It will be Israel because you have struggled with God and with men and have prevailed." Then Jacob asked him, "Please tell me your name." But he answered, "Why do you ask my name?" And he blessed him there. Jacob then named the place Peniel, "For I have seen God face to face," he said, "yet my life has been spared." The sun shone on him as he passed by Peniel — limping because of his hip. Genesis 32:22-31 (CSB)

THE REALITY OF OUR LIMITATIONS

THE EXPERIENCE OF GOD'S SUFFICIENCY

THE ASSURANCE OF GOD'S SUFFICIENCY

RESOURCES:

Living in the Grip of Relentless Grace: The Gospel in the Lives of Isaac & Jacob, Iain Duguid

I've never come across a better short study on Isaac and Jacob. Full of penetrating insights and excellent discussion questions. This book gets to the heart of the story of God's redemption of Jacob.

Son of Laughter, Frederick Buechner

Buechner's retelling of the story of Jacob undoes our tendency dress Jacob up in saintly garb. Here the story comes alive in all its earthy detail and, in doing so, draws us in to see the God of Jacob in his beauty and mystery.
